Panel Discussion
Screening of the Documentary Film
“Weil ich länger lebe als Du”
(German with English subtitles – “Because I will live longer than you”)

During the introductory discussion three key note speakers will give an overview of current projects, possibilities of cooperation as well as their own experiences within the field of environmental educational work.

After this, a German documentary film will be shown (with English subtitles), which presents children all over the globe who take global matters into their own hands. Since they do not trust the adults ability to put sustainable action into practice, the children take the bulk of the responsibility and try to realize their idea(s) in order to grant other children the possibility of a liveable world.

The director of the Film, Henriette Bornkamm, will be present at the event.

Furthermore we will give the possibility to organizations and schools to present themselves and their own environmental projects. By that, the possibility of making new contacts shall be given and new cooperation partners might be found.
