“Climate Theater and Playback Performance”

Ending 2017 with a unique interactive experience, Cairo Climate Talks is hosting a Climate Change Theater Action and Playback performance for the first time.

The talented troupe 'Khoyout' will perform various climate change theater readings as part of the global Climate Change Theater Action; a worldwide series of readings and performances of short climate change plays in support of the climate negotiations.

The performances will be followed by a 'Playback Performance'. Playback is an improvisational form of theater that stems from real stories and feelings of the audience; where anyone in the audience can share a story and, in turn, the troupe plays it back and reinterprets it through performance and music, without exaggeration and without judgment. Bring your thoughts and experiences along and join us in an evening full of art and stories for a cause.
